

Parent Educational Advocacy Training Center

Coffees

Winter 2004-05

10:00 a.m. – 12:00 noon

Saturday, January 8, 2005

Behaviors? What to Do!

Presented by Kay Klein from T/TAC Region 4 (GMU)

Are you being called to pick up your child regularly from school for problem behaviors? Kay Klein, expert in behavioral supports is also the Director of the Training/Technical Assistance Center of Region 4 at George Mason University (visit her website at: www.kihd.gmu.edu/TTAC-personnel)

Saturday, February 12, 2005

We Don't Agree, Now What?

Presented by Art Stewart-Mediation Coordinator, VA DOE

Getting to consensus can be extremely challenging in special education. Impartial and competent mediation can often be the key to reaching agreement and solutions that all can support.. Art Stewart is the mediation coordinator for the Virginia Department of Education. He has an extensive background in dispute resolution and has worked in private industry, the state and national levels.

Saturday, April 23, 2005 Understanding Abuse – What is it?

Who must report?

Presented by Shirley A. Norman-Taylor, Esq.

This session looks at abuse from a legal standpoint. Attorney Shirley Norman-Taylor is a family law lawyer with vast knowledge of abuse and the court system.

Saturday, May 14, 2005 Moving On – What is Transition?

Presented by Jeff Leone

How can parents best help their child prepare for transition to adult life? In order to gain a better understanding, join Jeff Leone, an expert in transition, Associate Professor and Assistant Chair for the Education Department of Marymount University. Learn what parents never ask for, but should along with post secondary school options.

Location: All coffees will be held at PEATC offices in Springfield, VA
6320 Augusta Drive, Suite 1200, Springfield, VA 22150
(near the Holiday Inn)*

Admission: There is no charge for admission, but reservations are recommended due to limited seating! To sign up call: Kathleen Nichols at: (703) 923-0010 or 800-869-6782 or email us at: partners@peatc.org. For accommodations for special needs, please let us know by the preceding Monday.