

Infant & Toddler
Connection of Virginia

In recent years, the news media has taken a keen interest in stories about the critical years of birth to three for early childhood development. This essential period of growth and learning is an extraordinary time of physical, social, and intellectual development. Research shows that these early years provide windows of opportunity. Early experiences, health, nutrition, parenting, and a multitude of other factors play important roles in a child's development. As early interventionists and family members, we have witnessed the remarkable changes that occur during these three years of life. At this year's conference, we will “View the Future through the Windows of Opportunity.”

Please plan to join us!

Keynote Speakers

Pam Schiller is an early childhood curriculum specialist, freelance author and speaker. Dr. Schiller has worked as a childcare administrator and has also taught in the public schools as a kindergarten teacher. She served as Head of the Early Childhood Department at the University of Houston, where she also directed the Lab School. Dr. Schiller shares her extensive knowledge in workshops, radio and television interviews, and as a popular keynote speaker and author. She is the author of five early childhood curriculums, eleven children's books, more than thirty teacher and parent resource books and a number of other creative projects such as activity books, DVDs and CDs. Pam lives in Cypress, TX.

From the moment she was born, Karen Gaffney began an incredible journey that continues today. She is the President of a non-profit organization dedicated to championing the journey to full inclusion in families, schools, the workplace and the community for people with developmental disabilities. She is doing this by creating awareness and calling attention to the tremendous capabilities of people with disabilities. Karen accomplishes this through presentations and workshops delivered all over the country. One of the workshops Karen presents is on the importance of physical fitness and how to set up a regular fitness plan. She has also started a program that she calls "The Friends First Network™" in schools around the Portland area. She hopes to take this program nationwide. Karen graduated from St. Mary's Academy in Portland, Oregon and earned a two-year Associates of Science degree from Portland Community College. She successfully swam the English Channel as part of a six-person relay team. And, just this year, she accomplished her biggest swimming challenge yet....she swam 9 miles across Lake Tahoe in 59-degree water to raise money for the National Down Syndrome Congress and to show the world that people with Down Syndrome are more alike, rather than different, from everyone else. Karen travels the country speaking with determination and commitment, knowing she has limits, but not allowing them to limit her drive to succeed. Oh, and by the way.... Karen Gaffney has Down syndrome.
